Q: Where do Corby shares trade and under what symbols?

A: Corby shares trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) under the symbols "CSW.A" and "CSW.B"

Q: When did Corby shares begin trading?

A: Corby shares began trading on the TSX on February 3, 1969.

Q: When did Corby shares split?

A: Corby shares have split as follows:

- Four-for-one split in 2006
- Three-for-one split in 1986; and
- Two-for-one split in 1980

Q: Do Corby shares qualify as Canadian content in your RRSP?

A: Yes. For further clarification, please contact your investment advisor.

Q: Can I buy shares directly from Corby?

A: No, shares in Corby can only be purchased through the TSX.

Q: Do the Non-Voting Class B Common Shares contain 'coat-tail provisions'?

A: The Non-Voting Class B Common Shares do not contain coat-tail provisions, as they predate the Toronto Stock Exchange requirement introduced in 1987.

Q: What is the difference between Corby's two classes of shares?

A: The Voting Class A Common Shares and the Non-Voting Class B Common Shares are identical, except for the right to vote of the Class A Common Shares. Both classes of shares have the same entitlement to dividends. As the Corby dual-class share structure pre-dates the introduction of the applicable TSX requirement, the Non-Voting Class B Common Shares do not have coat-tail provisions. The dual-class structure was created in the early 1900's. Any transaction to eliminate the dual-class structure would be both complex and costly to change.

Q: Do Corby shares pay a dividend?

A: Yes, quarterly (March, June, September and December) on both classes of shares, at the discretion of Corby Board of Directors.

Q: Are Corby dividends “eligible” for a higher gross-up and tax credit?

A: Yes.

Q: Does Corby offer a dividend reinvestment plan to public investors?

A: No.

Q: Who is your transfer agent?

A: For Corby's shares, the transfer agent and registrar in Canada is Computershare Investor Services Inc. (100 University Avenue, 9th Floor, Toronto, Ontario, M5J 2Y1; Tel: 1-800-564-6253 www.investorcentre.com/service).
